

A (meta)example of how Gagné's framework works

How we applied Gagné's nine events in Module 1

Image of a flowchart depicting the first three events of Gagné's 9 Events of Instruction. Events 1-3 are shown to be part of the planning stage of online course development.

We indicate how we've implemented each of these three events in this module, as follows.

Event 1 – Gain attention: We captured your attention at the outset of Module 1 with the learner voices video. More on how to do this in Module 3!

Event 2 – Inform learners of the objective: We listed the course learning outcomes in the "About this course" section and the module learning outcomes in the Module 1 "Module Overview" page.

Event 3 – Stimulate recall of prior learning: We asked you to identify your instructional bottlenecks in the "About this course" section, and provided some prompts to help you reflect on yourself as an instructor in the "Equity, diversity and inclusion (EDI): Your instructional way of seeing" section.
